

SPY

SPY

The workplace is an ever changing space. Introducing the SPY by RJ Office, our response to the modern workplace. From robust workstations in both singular and back to back variations to meeting tables, SPY is beautifully designed to provide you with versatility to suit every requirement.

Influenced by the intrinsic nature of the modern office space, Spy is built on techniques and integrated features to support a modern work environment.

SPY's privacy screens provide visual and audio privacy. Screens are either clamped to static frames or available as free standing components within alternative systems.

01 The Spy Singular Workstation.

The Spy workstation comes in both Singular and back to back variations, bringing you the versatility your office space needs.

02 Leg glides.

Spy integrates soft leg gliders, making Spy suitable for any surface.

03 Fixed Joint of Spy's legs.

Spy's carefully considered fixings give it increased structural rigidity, ensuring our products stand the test of time.

04 Central compartment reticulates Power cables.

Our Cable Management tower carefully reticulates power and conceals all your cables, decluttering the workspace and giving you more freedom to move.

05 Frameless divider mounted on brackets.

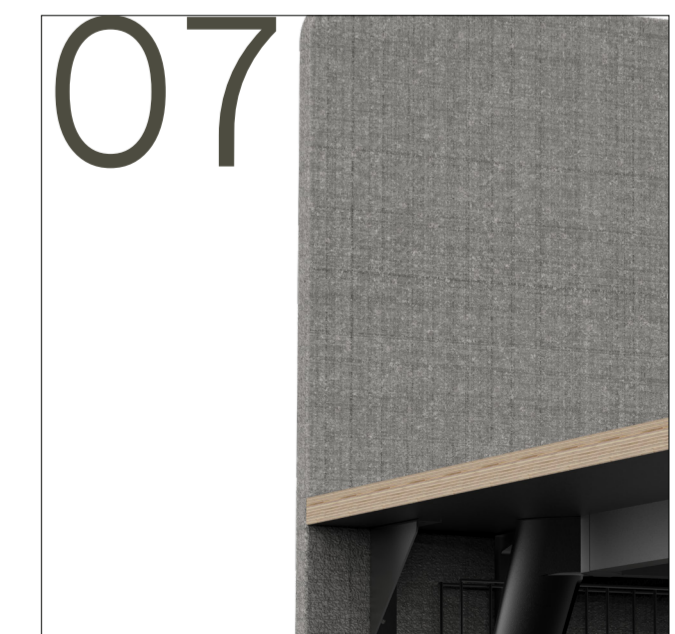

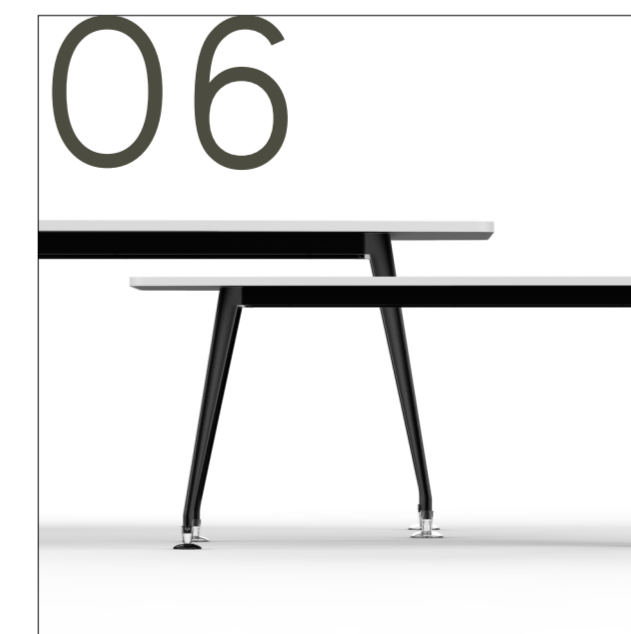

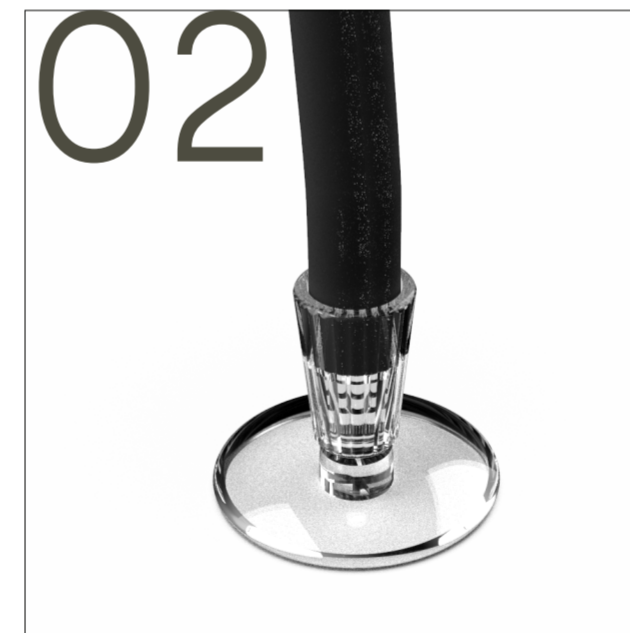

Spy's mounted partitions come in both frameless and framed variations, providing you with the adaptability you need.

06 SPY's Versatility

The Versatility of the SPY ranges provides you with the a working solution for all of today demands.

07 SPY's Privacy Screens

Spy's privacy screens are available in Acoustic panel, Commercial fabrics, Acrylic or Wood finishes. Screens can be frameless, or bound by Powder-coated Aluminium frames.

01

The versatile nature of Spy makes the product adaptable in workstation environments as well as in collaborative applications, such as meeting rooms and breakout areas.
